Fishing Made Simple.

SOUTH BRANCH OF THE POTOMAC

Catch dozens of smallmouth and largemouth bass on one of the most scenic, but gentle, waterways in West Virginia.

Float the shallow rapids in comfortable two-person drift boats or wade into eddies and pools

Outings on a stretch of river between Moorefield and Green Springs, W. Va, include “The Trough”, a picturesque limestone canyon where bald and golden eagles often soar overhead.

CHEAT RIVER

This premier bass fishery between Parsons and Rowlesburg, W. Va. Is also popular with fly fishermen. Several sections are stocked with trout, and the Cheat offers excellent catfish. On a good day, you can catch more than 30 bass!

Enjoy the mountain scenery as you float through a series of shallow riffles past seven small islands where you can explore or enjoy lunch.

OVERNIGHT TRIPS AND CAMPING

Camping along the rivers is a magical way to experience fishing. We provide comfortable riverside tent sites or campgrounds with hot showers. Meals can be provided for an additional fee, but all camping and cooking arrangements must be made in advance. Clients must provide their own tents and sleeping bags.

BOATS

I have a small fleet of 11' Coleman Crawdads that are excellent for drift fishing. Each boat is set up with sturdy, cushioned, high-back fishing chairs that allow you to be comfortable. Each boat is also powered by a 30 lb. Thrust trolling motor to let clients cover all the water.

JOHN NOCK

... (above)

I grew up in Garrett County, Maryland, and have fished the waters of this region for more than 27 years. I have scoured Maryland and West Virginia in search of the perfect river-fishing experience. The South Branch and the Cheat River are my second homes! I currently reside in Reedsville, W. Va., and work in Morgantown as an environmental engineer. But on the weekend, you'll usually find me knee-deep, tossing a variety of smallmouth treats.
